OBJECTIVE

Enthusiastic and self-taught Full Stack Developer with a strong academic foundation in Information Systems, over 750+ hours of intensive web development training and a unique background in business management and sales.
I love building clean, user-friendly apps with React, Next.js, and Node.js.

I'm looking to join a team where I can deepen my skills, contribute meaningfully to real-world products, and continue growing as a well-rounded full stack developer.
I value writing clean, maintainable code and enjoy collaborating with others to build great user experiences.
